The Leader's Institute® instructors, writers, and facilitators can help you add some power to the old "hum-drum" breakout sessions. Choose from our time-tested sessions or have us design custom sessions just for your group. Either way, you'll receive tons of compliments from your participants.

Our instructors are experts in creating and delivering sessions in a number of soft-skills areas such as leadership, management, team building, sales, and of course, public speaking. Each session is designed to be delivered in either 50 minute or one-hour and 15 minute sessions (depending on your schedule.)

Our professional facilitators interview your experts in order to keep the pace brisk and the information valuable. This is a great way to groom future presenters as well.

Presentation Coaching & Training for Your Presenters: Our public speaking coaches can also help your presenters create and deliver concise and powerful presentations.
